WISE ORGANIC PASTURES provides the market with the best free range, organically raised poultry. WISE ORGANIC PASTURES is operated by farmers with forty-four combined years of experience in organic farming. Our chickens are raised on small family farms nestled in the verdant, sun-drenched valleys of the Appalachian foothills in rural Pennsylvania. To the east lies the Susquehanna River and to the west is the state forest. Underfoot are green timothy and orchard grasses, blanketing the landscape of rolling hills. Our chickens are allowed access to the outdoors and are provided with unrestricted fresh water and feed. They are being raised in state-of-the-art spacious facilities that are temperature-controlled and highly ventilated. Our chickens are antibiotic free, hormone free, and raised on a fully organic, chemical-free diet. It's a good life for a chicken, and a healthy, delicious meal after that.

At WISE ORGANIC PASTURES, animal welfare and our consumer's health is not just our business, but our mission. We provide food the way Mother Nature intended it to be. Naturally, our products are certified by the Quality Assurance International, Good Agricultural Practices, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Central Rabbinical Congress, and Star-K. We are also proud environmentalists, who only use bio-degradable packaging for our products.

Organic is great. Organic and Kosher is even greater. Going kosher means that WISE ORGANIC PASTURES adheres to an entire set of laws and guidelines that results in the cleanest and tastiest chicken. From the earliest stages of raising the chicken, to the slaughter and preparations of the poultry, kosher laws dictate that only clean, healthy, and pain-free measures are used.

Our vision is to make kosher organic poultry available not just for those with religious requirements, but for those who are looking for the safest and healthiest organic food. Kosher and Organic; a combination that calls for the highest standards in the food industry.
